

Harrison Stropkay '25

Summer 2022

In Summer 2022, I worked at Louisville-based Glennis Solutions as a software engineering intern. I learned about the cloud architecture and experienced what software engineering might entail as a career. My tasks included creating an API that restarted downed Windows services, conducting a security analysis of cloud applications, and some front-end development. Overall, it was an informative and enriching experience.